Mayor Proposes New High School With a City Hall

Ordinance is Referred to Albany Finance Committee.

VOTE REQUIRED

People Would Have to Authorize Bonds of Municipality.

A new city hall and a new high school in Albany came a step nearer reality last night when an ordinance, suggesting a bond issue election on the two projects, was submitted to the council, in regular session, by Mayor E. C. Payne.

The ordinance was referred to the finance committee, which will thresh out the details and will make its report to the full council within the next few weeks.

Mayor Payne suggested a high school to cost in the neighborhood of $200,000, but made no estimate of the cost of a new city hall. If the council acts favorably on the suggestion, the next step will be the calling of an election to authorize the issuance of bonds. If the balloting is favorable, the council then would be confronted with the task of selling the bonds, advertising for bids and arranging the other details preliminary to commencement of work.

It was stated today that, inasmuch as the present school buildings are badly crowded and additional room is absolutely imperative, the council is expected to complete the initial steps at an early date, in order that the citizenship may have an opportunity to voice its opinion on the new high school sufficiently early that the building might be finished before the next term.

A special meeting of the council will be held next Monday night for the adjustments of licenses for the next year.

WRITER TELLS HOW CUPID USED STORM PIT NEAR TRINITY

Miss Pearl Beech
On last Thursday Cupid took advantage of a storm-pit to avoid the tempest which sometimes accompanies marriage ceremonies, when Miss Ethel Jeffreys, daughter of Trinity's popular blacksmith, William Jeffreys, with a couple of girl friends, slipped out from home and went to the storm-pit of a neighbor and dressed for her wedding.

She was met down town by William Hackett of Florence in a taxi, in which they drove to Hillsboro. Here they boarded a train for Sheffield, where they were happily married.

HEALTH OFFICIAL TELLS WHY PUBLIC AIDS IN HIS WORK

By F. W. DERSHIMER, M. D.
After the health meeting was over and the men from town had left, Barney Boggs approached his friend, the health officer.

"That was a fine meeting," he said. "Glad you liked it," replied the health officer.

"Well, I did and I learned some things, too."

"I can't understand one thing, though," Barney continued.

"What is that, Barney?"

"Why did those business men from town come out here with you to back up what you said? I know they are good fellows but I can't see how they will get anything out of helping you."

"Barney, I think they came mostly because they are good fellows, as you say they are, and because I asked them to come. But that does not mean they will get nothing out of it."

"Well, what will they get, Doc?"

"You have a farm. Suppose a neighbor has a farm of exactly the same amount of land which is just the same as yours. Would the incomes of both of you be the same?"

"Not likely," said Barney.

"Why not?"

"Well, we probably would not plant the same things altogether, for one thing."

"But if you did grow exactly the same things, would your income be the same then?"

"I don't think so."

"Why?"

"Well, we wouldn't maybe do the same amount of work. I might plow deeper or he might cultivate or use more fertilizer."

"Then the man who plowed deeper and cultivated most and used the more fertilizer would probably make more money, would he not?"

"Yes."

"Why?"

"Well, the plants would grow better. They'd be larger, perhaps. Any way, they'd produce more fruit. If they made more cotton or whatever it was, of course the farmer would make more money."

"I'm ready to answer your question now. The fields of the business man are the people in the county, especially the country people in Alabama. If they are weakly they cannot produce much fruit; they are poor in money and have little to spend. The merchant—"

"I get you," interrupted Barney. "If we are healthy and make more money, so we can buy things, the merchant gets a bigger income from us. I see now why they came out. Good fellows, nothing! Always lookin' out for their own pocket-books! What do they care for us farmers?"

"What does it matter whether they care or not? They cannot profit as much from the improvement in your condition as you profit yourselves, can they?"

"Guess you're right, as usual. You always beat me in an argument."

"Well, Barney, I usually try to argue about something in the line of my own work. If I would argue about horses, you would beat me. Look how you kept me from buying that one at the sale that was wind-broken."

This restored Barney's good humor and as the health officer bade him good night he remarked: "As long as you know a fellow can't help himself except by helping you, you can be pretty sure that the advice he gives is honest, can't you?"

To which the health officer agreed.

DERRICK REPORTED SHIPPED TO BEGIN DRILLING FOR OIL IN TWO MILES OF CITY

W. L. Clanton Says Statement
May be Issued Early Next Week.

OIL IS DISCOVERED ON
3 FARMS IN ST. CLAIR

Possibilities There Will be Developed by Newly Formed Organization.

Seepages of oil have been discovered on the Cline, Cook and Hoke farms in St. Clair county and drilling will start there shortly, according to an announcement today by W. L. Clanton, well known local business man.

Mr. Clanton and other well known local people also are interested in the development of oil possibilities in Morgan county and it is reported on good authority that a derrick has been shipped to start drilling less than two miles south of the Twin Cities, but Mr. Clanton declined to make public the details of the developments here today. He added that a statement probably will be issued next week.

The St. Clair property will be developed by an organization known as the Cook Springs Oil and Gas Block, of which Mr. Clanton and W. C. Clark are trustees. A creek running through the property there is said to have every evidence of oil. A stick poked through the bottom will be followed by oil bubbles, it was stated. The St. Clair oil is believed to be of a very high grade.

Both St. Clair and Morgan counties are said by geologists to have the same formations as the Pennsylvania fields, where oil has been found in abundance.

All geologists who have investigated the oil possibilities of North Alabama have been unanimous, so far as known, in their reports that there is every evidence of oil here. A number of years ago development efforts had reached the drilling stage when it was generally claimed that one of the large oil companies, became interested in the venture with the result that operations were suspended.

MANY STUDENTS SUFFERING MINOR PHYSICAL DEFECTS

The examination of students in the lower grades in Albany schools reveals the fact that many pupils are suffering from minor physical defects, County Health Officer Austin stated today. The examination showed approximately 47 per cent of the students in school in the lower grades are sufferers, it was said.

Of this total, approximately 43 per cent have bad teeth and 23 per cent have defective tonsils.

Examination is Concluded of Pupils in Lower Grades in Albany.

"We are sending notification cards to the parents of the students with minor physical defects," Dr. Austin said, "and we are receiving much co-operation from the children's parents. The defects are being remedied at the rate of about eight each week. Of course we appreciate this co-operation very much. It accomplishes little for us to make the examinations unless the findings are complied with and the defects discovered remedied."

MAYOR PAYNE IN FAVOR OF BUDGET SYSTEM FOR CITY

If the Albany city council adopts recommendations of Mayor E. C. Payne, made at last night's session of the body, bonds will be voted on to retire the "floating debt" of the municipality and the city will begin business again with a clean slate.

Authorization of the bonds would be followed by placing the city on a budget system in order that it "may live within its income," Mayor Payne stated.

"Of course we would have to pay interest on the bonds," the executive said, "but we would begin business with a clean slate and we would live within our income. Municipalities, sometimes, are like individuals. We must regulate our expenditures. We must know where we stand. We do not get ahead now, for as fast as we reach a position to get ahead, we have to pay out money on our floating debt."

LAYMAN TALKS

B. L. Malone Pleads for Greater Interest
in Churches.

Wednesday morning's session of the State Baptist Convention was devoted entirely to the discussion of missions, both home and foreign. In the absence of D. H. Brown of Birmingham an earnest plea for business methods in missions and all church work was made by B. L. Malone, a prominent Baptist layman of Albany. Mr. Malone contended that when as much thought and effort and money was put into kingdom tasks, the day of Christ's triumph would appear. Mr. Malone followed Dent F. Green, secretary-treasurer, who devoted most of his address to impressing the Bible position on the "Tithe."

Mr. Green said that the hand of God was heavy on those who ignored the claims of tithing, and that it was destined to be still heavier on such miscreants who would not give a tithe to God's work.

"The law of God as recorded in the third book of the Bible says that the tithe is 'holy unto the Lord.' Now, who is going to release us from a holy obligation?" asked the speaker with fervor. "You must not only recall that Christ said that He came to fulfill the law, which of course included the Levitical law as to tithing, but you know that He upheld this law in a definite statement."

"His pronouncement came in that place in the New Testament, where He said that 'ye observe the tithe as to mint and comin and these things OUGHT ye to do.'"

The report on Southern Baptist missions, scheduled to have been read by Dr. J. R. Hobbs, was given by P. C. Ratliff of Birmingham. This report was accepted and ordered printed with the convention proceedings. A very strong inspirational address was delivered by the general secretary for missions for the entire Southern Baptist convention, B. D. Brown, of Atlanta.

Results of Baptist Christian effort, for the last 20 years, as compared to long years previous, was one of the striking features of Mr. Brown's speech.

"In the last 17 years we have accomplished twice as much as we did in the 58 previous years. As to conversions and baptisms for the first 58 years of our organized effort, we had 82,000; for the 10 years following, 187,000, and the last ten years shows 255,000."

Dr. Gray said that commercialism and false doctrine had been met with the Scriptural truths as to the temporal and passing character of worldly possessions, and the absolute need of a Savior for all humanity.

"The people need these doctrines and they want them." Stress was laid on the fact that the "enlistment workers" of the church were inclined to look for immediate results, while the evangelists laid stress on "soul winning" and character building. The speaker praised the religious strategy of the Southern Baptists, and compared it to the way in which General Foch had confounded the Hun generals in the last days of the war.

"We give the glory to God, but we have indeed mounted up on wings as eagles, we have run without weariness and we have walked without shaking." Praise was given the judgment of the Atlanta Baptist convention, which had courteously but finally declined to join Southern Baptists, with the world inter-church movement. The great success of the $75,000,000 campaign as carried to victory by Southern Baptists was cited as a proof of the wisdom of remaining separate from the inter-church movement.

"Southern Baptists have done more to stabilize denominational Christianity than any other people," said Dr. Gray. "World Wide Missions" were anticipated.

ASSING OF THE FRENCH DUEL

on the Washington Post.

The refusal of M. Leo Daudet, the fire-eating itor of the royalist Action Francaise, to fight a el with one of his colleagues in the French amber will probably do more to put an end to is custom than the bill for the abolition of the el recently laid before the French Parliament.
he introduction of such a measure was only a esh proof how certain institutions die hard. It so seems a superfluous one in view of the fact at the duel has been illegal in France for many ars though in practice it is tolerated. No pro-ution is ever undertaken unless (as happens in re instances) the encounter has a fatal ending.
ven in such cases, if the evidence shows that the el was a loyal one, the penalty is merely nominal.

That the duel as a criminal offense is winked
in France is notorious. During Paul Deroled's tle in Spain, after his sentence to banishment or his attempt to overthrow the republic during he Dreyfus affair, he was given a special safe
duct by the French government to enter rench territory to fight a duel with the late an Jaures, the famous socialist leader, Dreyfus' reat champion. At least a thousand spectators itnessed the encounter, which ended bloodlessly, ur shots being exchanged without result. In 389 M. Floquet, then prime minister, fought a uel with General Boulanger. The fact that the atter was somewhat seriously wounded in the eck by his adversary, a stout and short-winded wyer, did much to ruin the prestige of the poplar idol and hero.

Of all the clauses in the present bill, which has
mong its sponsors General de Castelnau, late chief of staff, the most effective for suppressing he duel will probably be the one forbidding all ublicity. It is to be made a criminal offense for newspaper to publish any account of a duel.
his will get rid of 90 per cent of the encounters,
which are generally fought by politicians or newsmen with a view of self-advertising. About 2 or 15 years ago began the era of what has been described as "duels a grande orchestre," with a allery of spectators and the inevitable moving icture operators in attendance. The first of these was the encounter between M. Abel Herman,
he dramatic author, and the Prince de Sagan,
then the "arbitrer elegantissime" of Paris society.
ts cause was a play written by M. Herman, in which the Sagan matrimonial troubles were por-rayed. As the result of this advertisement the play, which at first had been pretty much a failure,
ran for more than three months as a "success
le curiosite."

The conditions drawn up by the seconds in French duels are generally such as get rid of all danger of a fatal termination. Accidents, however, occasionally happen. It is this that gives the otherwise comparatively harmless institution a fresh lease of life. But for the occasional tragic ending the French duel would long ago have succumbed to public ridicule.

CAMPING PLACE FOR TOURISTS

The Huntsville Telegram, ever alert to the advantages accruing to any city from the publicity given it by tourists, has been conducting a campaign for the establishment of a permanent camp
there for drivers of automobiles and other vehicles. The Telegram announces that Gadsden has become interested in the project, also.

It would not be amiss for the possibilities of such a camp here to be investigated by our civic and commercial organizations. The South, at least a part of it, is reaping a harvest of dollars and advertising as the result of the tourists' visits.
Unfortunately the absence of a bridge across the Tennessee river at this point handicaps our bid for tourists, but Morgan County is undertaking a great road building program and when the chain is completed, a few more visitors will find their way across our county.

Frequently high waters have delayed automobile drivers in crossing the Tennessee river.
Their stay here would be made more comfortable,
in that case, should they be provided with a permanent camping site. The greatest possibility of good arises, however, from the impression the camp would make on tourists coming through here in normal weather. Someone has remarked that a
"well pleased customer is the best advertisement."
At the same time they might have remarked that a "well pleased visitor makes the best publicity."

DON'T

An unseemly scramble to get out of our theatres at the close of performances is a practice that has the condemnation of a large majority of playgoers, for it interferes with the enjoyment of patrons who have paid good money to witness a completed performance. No one has the right to show this discourtesy to the audience and the performers (frequently artists of wide fame) who have given the best in them to entertain their admirers and patrons. Cannot something be done to curtail the activities of these hurried ones who disturb. Can they not be induced to remain seated until the final curtain fall for the benefit of others?

TOO MUCH "THANK YOU"

We honestly believe that in the matter of doing things for a mere "thank you" the newspapers of this country hold the record.

We say it with no desire to discriminate, for we believe Ambridge people are no different from those to be found elsewhere, but we feel that on reflection they will agree it is true—that for the number of favors rendered no other institution is as poorly paid as the newspaper. The church has a bazaar, the school has a concert, a club brings a paid speaker or musician to town and does so to make money, and yet in almost every instance the newspaper is called on to announce the date, boost the attraction, get out the crowd—and then be satisfied with a free ticket. And often very often, the promoters overlook even the free ticket.

It is hard for some people to understand that about all a newspaper has to sell is its space not devoted to actual news happenings. If it gives away its space, where is it to get money for more white paper, more ink, more type—for type wears out—and for rent and heat and light and the score of other things that it is forced to pay out good money for? They would not go to the merchant and say, "We're going to hold a bazaar to make some money; give us some of your goods
to sell that night." Yet they say to the editor,
"We're going to hold a bazaar; give us your advertising space, so we can get a crowd that will spend its money." And yet there's no difference.

The newspapers are here to boost every worthy institution—and this one expects to keep on doing it. But we'd get down on our knees and thank the good Lord right now if we could make everyone see that it takes money to run a newspaper,
just the same as it does anything else.—Ambridge (Pa.) News-Herald.

Albany calls the attention of Luke McLuke to the fact that mirrors were placed in the voting booths on election day for the use of the fair sex. Rumor had it that Chief Sox Sorber, of the fire department, was responsible for the added convenience.

The selection of Rev. W. P. McGlawn as Presiding Elder of the Decatur District is one of the greatest satisfaction, not only to those of his denomination and faith, but to our whole people.
He will fill his office with credit to himself, his congregation and his God. The added responsibility will be accepted with humility and steadfast purpose.

That slap of the government against "home brew" was the "most unkindest cut of all."

If all fair sex were as pretty as the Magazine cover girls, and the "boys" as handsome as those in advertisement displays of new suits what a fine world we would have.

Generally, we have been overtaken in a fault,
when we complain that we are not understood.

History may yet credit the Irish hunger strikers with the "reported" fall in food prices.

It was doubtless the regular and accepted order of boot-leggers that is trying to make it hard for the home brewers, by putting the ban on hops
and malt extract.

There is one thing about farming, with all its up and downs. In that profession there are no half time days, and no lay offs on account of a shut down.

MODERN HEALTH CRUSADE

"The Modern Health Crusade is something entirely new to most of us," declared Dr. B. F. Austin, county health officer, "therefore the first question that most naturally comes to our minds is: What is the modern health crusade? It is an organized effort, instituted by the National Tuberculosis Association, the aim of which is to train every school child in those habits of life which are essential to the best possible physical development. The end aimed at is not merely information, but action; not simply knowledge of what things are desirable, but rather the habitual practice of the rules of healthy living.

"What is required of the child who wishes to become a member of the Modern Health Crusade? First of all the child must desire health, not necessarily for its sake, but because it is an avenue to success and happiness.
Each child who wishes to become a member of this health army is given a 'Record of Health Chores for Modern Health Crusaders' which contains a list of the chores with spaces for checking off each one as it is done
daily. Below is a list of the chores:

1. I washed my hands before each meal today.
 2. I washed not only my face but my ears and neck and I cleaned my finger nails today.
 3. I kept fingers, pencils and everything likely to be unclean or injurious out of my mouth and nose today.
 4. I brushed my teeth thoroughly after breakfast and after the evening meal today.
 5. I took ten or more slow, deep breaths of fresh air today. I was careful to protect others if I spit, coughed or sneezed.
 6. I played out of doors or with windows open more than thirty minutes today.
 7. I was in bed ten hours or more last night and kept my windows open.
 8. I drank four glasses of water, including a drink before each meal, and drank no tea, coffee nor other injurious drinks today.
 9. I tried to eat only wholesome food and to eat slowly. I went to toilet at my regular time.
 10. I tried hard today to sit up and stand up straight; to keep neat, cheerful and clean-minded; and to help others.
 11. I took a full bath on each of the days of the week that are checked (x).
- "Before going to bed the child or his or her parent is expected to check off each chore done that day. For example, if he or she washed his or her hands before each meal today and it is Tuesday, a check mark is made in the space after statement 1 in the column for Tuesday.
- "After all, being a Modern Health Crusader really means that you want to be well and strong and fit for your country's service, and want to help everyone else to be strong and well for the same purpose."

BEAUTIFUL POEM

"One of the most beautiful sentiments for this time of the year," said
a high school teacher, "is found in Bryant's 'Death of the Flowers.' What the poet says is sad, but it is true to the experience of most people. You know Bryant wrote the 'Death of the 'Flowers' following the loss of his younger sister. The reference to her death comes toward the last of the poem. All that I recall of the poem goes something like this: 'The melancholy days have come the saddest of the year, with wailing winds and na-

Doctors are warning the public that simple colds and mild cases of in-

NEW VERSION OF "CHEER UP MABEL" COMING With Filtration Walk

Geo. E. Wintz, a successful theatrical producer, who in the past few years has presented many pleasing shows, struck the final keynote to success when he sent forth for public approval a new version of his musical comedy, "Cheer Up Mabel," which is coming to the Masonic on Saturday, November 20.

This tuneful musical play holds the audience with its swinging, lilting
melodies and cleverly handled story which lends just enough color to its effective stage settings to please the most, blasé theater-goer. The capable cast includes the chic and charming Nyra Brown as "Mabel Clayton," the leading role. Miss Brown is a charming little girl, who sings, dances
and gawks about with an abundance of personality, magnetism and ability galore. The leading comedy falls to the lot of John G. Getz, a clever comedian of wide reputation and in the comedy role of the "Monkey Man" is seen at his best. A bewitching brigade of wonderfully clever girls presents the novel drills and dance ensembles in a way that proves a revelation to theater patrons. The favorite melodies in this new musical spectacle include "Cheer Up Mabel," "Hold Me," "Old Fashioned Garden," "Land
of Nile," "Koolen Off," "Huddle Me Alone," "Island of Dreams," "My Op-
ie," "Why Baby" and others.

For a nearer view of the charming beauties of the feminine ensemble, a feature of the production will be a jeweled runway, an elevated strip of beautifully illuminated footpath extending from the stage to and over the orchestra seats in the auditorium.
Over this runway the singing and dancing maidens will from time to time trip their fascinating selves over the heads of the audience, but not too far above to hide their smiling lips, flashing eyes and alluring dimples.

Remarkable Family.
At Waltham Cross, England, Mr
and Mrs. G. C. Heathcote are heads of a family of five sons, four daughters, 33 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Among them they play 45 instruments, seven granddaughters
the organ, pianoforte and violin and two great-grandchildren the organ.

Colds & Headache

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Mr. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and does the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for a cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars . . . I don't see how any family can hardly go without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and am never without it."

FRIENDSHIP

If you have a friend worth loving, Love him. Yes, and let him know That you love him ere life's evening Tinge his brow with sunset glow; Why should good words ne'er be said Of a friend till he is dead?

—Anonymous.

For as yellow gold is tried by fire, so do moments of adversity prove the strength of friendship. While fortune is friendly and smiles with serene countenance, crowds surround the rich; but when heaven's thunder rolls they vanish, nor has he one who knows him, though lately encircled by troops of boon companions.

MESS UNITY DANCEY ENTERTAINS CLUB

Tuesday afternoon Miss Unity Dancey was charming hostess to the Auction Book Club at the Lyons. Four linen covered tables were arranged for the card game in the parlors, where crystal vases of pink Columbia rose buds and quaint old fashioned chrysanthemums lent their charm and fragrance. After a most enjoyable afternoon spent in a spirited contest, Miss Dancey invited her guests to the dining room, where an elaborate three-course menu was served at a prettily appointed table centered by a vase of pink carnations. Photographers advise girls not to powder their faces before having their photographs taken. Powder flattens the features and robs the face of expression. Rheumatism Comes From Tiny Pain Germs

First of all, get it firmly fixed in your mind that all the liniments in the world have no effect whatever on Rheumatism.

A very common form of Rheumatism is caused by millions of tiny disease germs which infest the blood. The one and only sensible treatment, therefore, is one which cleanses the blood of these germs, and routs them entirely out of the circulation.

This is why S.S.S., the greatest known blood purifier is so successful in the treatment of Rheumatism. It is a powerful cleanser of the blood, and will remove the disease germs that cause your Rheumatism, affording relief that is genuine.

Mission Study Principal Theme

discussed in a lengthy address by Dr. J. W. Phillips, an official representative of the Foreign Mission Board. Dr. Phillips was followed by Dr. W. P. Wilks, pastor of the Central Baptist church of Albany, who is the Alabama representative of the foreign mission board. Dr. Wilks called attention to many of the points made by the previous speakers and impressed them with convincing logic. The last speaker of the morning session was Dr. Z. D. Cody, who has recently returned from Europe. This speaker impressed the need of mission effort in devastated Europe.

The second session of the 99th annual convention of Alabama Baptists now in session here was devoted exclusively to the report of the Hospital Commission, which was read by Dr. J. R. Hobbs of Birmingham, chairman. The report was adopted in full and the convention directed that the present commission be continued as the first board of trustees. The following compose the board: J. R. Hobbs, W. C. Davis, J. R. Mosely, C. A. Stakely, W. R. Seymour, John A. Davidson and H. J. Willingham.

Motion made by Frank Willis Barrett of Birmingham that members from Tuscaloosa, Bessemer and Huntsville be added to the board of trustees failed to carry.

At the afternoon session Rev. W. H. Smith of Birmingham was re-elected president of the convention. Vice-presidents are: A. E. Smith of Birmingham and A. S. Smith of Alexander City; second vice-president, W. M. Wood of Birmingham, elected for the 16th year as secretary; A. S. Barnes of Montgomery, assistant secretary, and W. H. Menly of Birmingham, treasurer.

The greater part of the afternoon and opening session of the convention was taken up with the financial report by the secretary-treasurer, Dent P. Green, of Montgomery, which report was referred to a committee for recommendations to the convention.

The night session, with the exception of a short report of the orphanage committee, was devoted to the exhaustive report of the hospital committee, presented by Dr. J. R. Hobbs, pastor of the First Baptist church at Birmingham, in which the principal recommendations were: First, that at least one hospital be built; second, that inasmuch as the authority granted this commission probably expires with this session of the convention, a board of trustees, consisting of seven, to be known as the board of trustees of the Alabama Baptist Hospital, be appointed by this convention and the whole hospital matter be referred to them; third, that the board of trustees so chosen be authorized to meet and organize temporarily by choosing a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, and that when so organized, to choose the location for the hospital. The report also recommended that five local trustees be recommended from the place where the hospital is finally located.

It is also recommended that the convention approve the policy of requiring financial aid from the community where the hospital is to be located, the sum of not less than $1 for each dollar put in by the board of trustees.

At the close of Tuesday night's session Chairman Smith announced the following committees: To fill vacancies on boards—F. P. Nichols, Clay I. Hudson, T. M. Fleming, Spencer P. King, C. J. Crawford, R. F. Stuckey, J. V. Dickinson, J. O. Colley. Committee to name standing committees—W. B. Ogletree, E. W. Haygood, E. W. Barnett, J. A. Howard, V. C. Kincaid, C. N. James, C. C. Davison, H. D. Wilson, Emmett Moore and L. T. Rieves.

What Are Your Chances of Success

Do You Step Out with Snap and Vigor? Are You Able to Get Things Done?

DON'T STAND IN YOUR OWN WAY People with Thin, Weak Blood Have a Hard Time of It. They Should Take Pepto-Mangan

Look at the facts of your health. So much depends on having red blood. If you stand up in front of your work with half-starved blood in your system you are standing in your own way. You are blocking your own progress.

Thin blood makes you dull. It makes you pale. You take no enjoyment out of your work. It is only half as good as it should be.

You can remedy that condition so easily. Begin taking that fine tonic, Pepto-Mangan, today and keep it up for awhile. Your blood will become nourished. Pepto-Mangan makes red blood corpuscles. You will get energy and strong power of resistance. Instead of standing in your own way, you will push yourself ahead because of greater vitality.

But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. It is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure that the name is on the package. The tablets or the liquid have the same medicinal value. —Adv.

What Southern Baptists Believe

While it is impossible in brief space to give a complete summary of the things which Alabama Baptists, now assembled in annual convention in Decatur believe, some of the cardinal principles espoused by them are set forth as follows:

1. The absolute deity, humanity and authority of Jesus Christ as man's only Savior and Lord.

2. The complete inspiration and authority of the Bible as the will of God in salvation and conduct.

3. Salvation by grace alone through faith in the atoning death and meritorious righteousness of Christ as the world's only hope in eternity.

4. Christ's churches, divine in origin and purpose, were set up by Him, commissioned by Him and empowered by the Holy Spirit to preach and teach the whole gospel to the whole world.

5. Church membership should be composed of regenerated persons who have been baptized upon a profession of faith in Christ, and whose lives have been surrendered to Christ in carrying the Gospel to all men. BAPTISTS STEADFASTLY HOLD THAT ALL TRUE BELIEVERS IN JESUS CHRIST HAVE BEEN BORN AGAIN AND ARE SAVED, WHETHER THEY BE MEMBERS OF ANY OR NO RELIGIOUS DENOMINATION.

6. The resurrection of the dead issues in an eternal life of joy in heaven to the believer and eternal death in hell to the unbeliever.

7. Church and state should be completely separated. Neither has any jurisdiction over the other. All people have the right to approach God, worship Him and serve Him as they see fit without any ecclesiastical or state interference.

8. Religion is a voluntary matter and democracy should be applied fully in religion, church government and individual conduct. The individual, having the Bible and his conscience as guides, is responsible to God alone for his religious faith and conduct, though in the exercise of this conduct he must not transgress the rights of others.

9. The two church ordinances, baptism and the Lord's Supper, are symbolical and memorial and are to be observed only by saved believers. These ordinances are observed by the churches in obedience to Christ's commands, but they neither save nor help to save men's souls.

10. The life of the Christian should be one of complete separation from sin, devotion to Christ's cause in all the world, and consecration of time, talent, energy and means to the salvation of the lost about him and the extension of Christ's kingdom.

11. A great warm-hearted, soulful brotherhood and fellowship in world service, based upon the principles of Christ as set forth in the New Testament.

PE-RU-NA

For Coughs, Colds and Catarrh

Mr. E. W. Marshall, Brampton, Michigan, suffering from Systemic Catarrh involving Head, Nose, Throat and Stomach, claims a complete cure. His letter is convincing. "For the past two years I have been troubled with systemic catarrh. I used several boxes of Pe-ru-na tablets and they have effected a complete cure. I do not hesitate to recommend Pe-ru-na for all catarrhal conditions."

Mr. Marshall is just one of many thousands who have been benefited by Dr. Hartman's famous medicine in the past fifty years. It is by stimulating the digestion, enriching the blood and toning up the nerves that Pe-ru-na is able to exert such a soothing, healing influence upon the mucous membrane which lines the body. It is a wonderfully effective remedy to restore strength after a protracted sickness, the grip or Spanish influenza.

"SPARE THIS TREE"

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Nov. 17.—Listen to this: "O truckman, spare this tree! Have a heart and don't butt me. The street is narrow, but the world is wide."

Try to back on the other side."

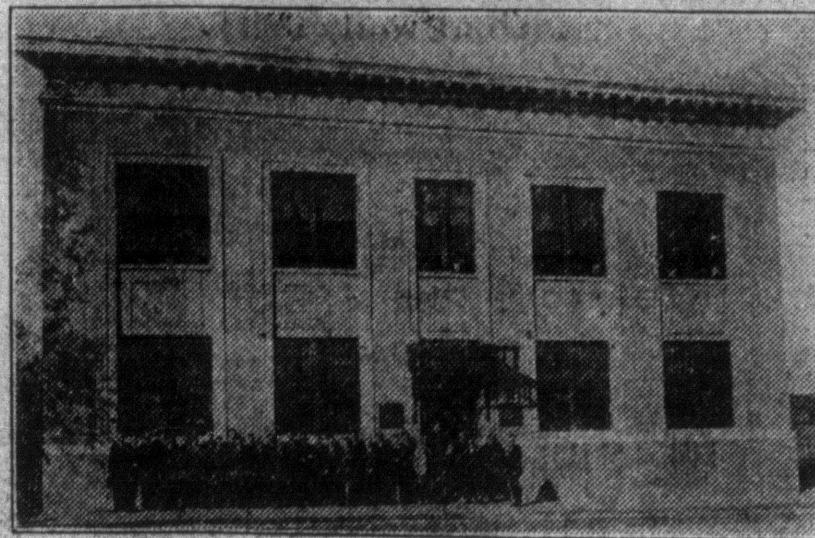

The foregoing more or less classic verse, the product of some modest townsmen, has been pinned to a large elm tree on Maugus avenue.

It was apparently inspired by the fact that a reckless motorist recently crashed into the tree with his car, escaping injury himself, but seriously gashing the elm.

KIWANISANS VISIT EXCHANGE;

SAY HELLO TO "HELLO-GIRLS"

"John Bull" Cassels, District Manager, is Host to His Fellow Indians.

GROUP OF KIWANISANS AT THE PHONE BUILDING

By J. R. DANIEL

"John Bull", one of the best fellows in Morgan Kiwanis Club, had all the club members 'round at his "hello factory" last Thursday as his guests and the occasion was, without doubt, unique and interesting to all who were present. By "John Bull" we mean J. B. Cassels, the genial District Manager of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co.; his name is not really "John Bull" but somehow it seems to be appropriate, so everyone thinks.

Anyway it was John Bull's party and he proved himself mine host of excellent quality.

The orderly system of the great Southern Bell business institution was reflected in the complete arrangements made for our reception from the front door where we were warmly greeted by a representative of the Company on and through all departments of the large Albany Exchange. This large crowd, of some forty prominent business men, was conducted from department to department without a hitch and with little disturbance to the ordinary routine of the Exchange.

After a hurried glance at the clerical offices, through the District Managers private office, the visitors were conducted to the Terminal Room and Plant Chief's office. It was with amazement that the visiting Kiwanians looked on the intricate maze of wiring, cables, frames and connections and could hardly realize that this was a necessary part of the simple (?) operation of using your phone. We have read that in the great war one man on the battle line required five men in the rear to keep him there. So on the battle line of business when we load the telephone gun to make a business shot how many of us ever realized how many men were behind the "phone lines" (you may say) to maintain your equipment and your commanding position? Very few of us, indeed; but it is true and it would serve us all well to visit our local exchange and become a little more informed on the extent and far-reaching magnitude of that business.

Then to the Morse room of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., where we were shown the clattering battery of telegraph instruments making a bedlam of sound. The test boards, where wire trouble was determined within a few feet though the circuit be broken a hundred miles distant. Did anyone imagine that the modest little phone had such behind it?

And in the 'hello department' proper to see the young ladies completing calls at the switchboard that to look at (not the ladies, but the board) would run you distracted; this one sight should make a good telephone Christian out of the most hardened phone sinner and in being a good convert we can all exercise that degree of patience and cooperation to the betterment of the service. This switch-board proposition is a real man's job HANDLED BY GIRLS. What do you think of that, "Man"? We were then shown the Long Distance Exchange department and as in all other departments every interest was shown in explaining the method and intricacy of handling calls which was deeply interesting, especially to business men. How vitally related to every successful business is the 'phone. It is one of the trunk nerves of business and to actually watch the functioning and pulsation of same is a profound experience and can only be experienced by a visit to a district phone exchange.

To minister the service guaranteed this great business institution tolerates no make-shifts as to building, plant, equipment or physical unfitness in employees. The highest order of preparation is carried out, so we find the excellent exchange building; generally fire-proof and safe in all structural details. Costly and intricate plant equipment, which to maintain reflects an enormous salary cost of hundreds of experts, not to speak of the material cost itself. The latest is not the best and it is a constant endeavor and striving on the part of the big phone company to improve on and on to the end that perfect service may some day be realized. And the welfare efforts put forward to safe-guard the health and provide necessary comforts for their help, in which girls so largely predominate, is an impressive fact that one gets on such a visit. This makes for efficiency and shows up in improved service.

So the summing up of all impressions on an inspection trip of this character is that one is profoundly impressed with the magnitude of the telephone business and in getting such vivid impressions of its magnitude and consequent maintenance cost any fair efforts put forward to provide for the financing and to guarantee a reasonable return on the invested capital should meet with the sympathetic favor of the public for whose sole interest the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co., actually exists.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter if Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—(Adv.)

HERE IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY

The surface is composed of sand and clay, and sandstone; thick beds of shale of the shale formation, which is soaked in oil and gas seepages that will burn when ignited with a match, antiliquefied structure, with uplifts and folds and arches sufficient to form pockets or a gathering place for oil and gas.

Cook Springs, Ala., 28 miles east of Birmingham, St. Clair County, has all indications of oil and gas that the Hog Creek fields in Texas had before it was developed, only the indications are that Cook Springs has a higher grade of oil than has been tapped in the United States. Of course, we cannot tell how much oil we have, but we have some, and what we have seen is true; but the only way to know is by the bit, and we are going to drill thirty-five hundred (3,500) feet or more. The indications are that we will strike a flowing well about 1,100 feet, but we do not want to mislead any one. We just give the facts and you decide for yourself. We invite any one to go over the ground and satisfy himself.

This is to certify, That I am the original discoverer of the first oil seepage that was ever discovered on the Clines' farm. I was born and reared on the farm on which I now live. I have been knowing for thirty years we had an oil field here. One day, about thirty years ago, I was digging with a poleaxe, prospecting for coal and water, when coal oil spattered up in my face, and then and there I smelled the first coal oil coming out of the earth. It was found in a blue black shale rock, and on examination I noticed oil running down the bank into the creek. Some people around here skimmed up the oil and burned it in their lamps. The oil also came up at another place on the same farm last spring, April, 1920. Also we have gas seepage that will burn upon the application of a lighted match. It will burn sometimes coming through the water all the way from six inches to 3 and 4 feet. Any one doubting this statement may come to my place and I will show them with pleasure that there are facts.

This is to certify, That I have seen oil and gas seepages on the Cline farm on one or two occasions. I skimmed up almost a ten-cent snuff-box full of pure coal oil. You could smell the oil several feet before you arrived at the place where it was coming up. It came up in a small wet-weather branch. You could see it rising through the water, and see it floating down the branch. This was about the 13th of last April. I have also seen gas seepages coming up through the water in Cane Creek on the Cline farm. You can set fire to the gas seepages and it will burn with a quick flash through the water, near the bank. I am a woman, about 60 years old, I give this testimony of my own free will and accord. I have no interest in any land or otherwise.

This is to certify, That I have seen oil and gas seepages at a number of places on Cane Creek and many other places. The oil came out at several places; that you could smell it, and it would burn in lamps. The gas seepages will burn on the application of a lighted match. I have seen as many as a dozen holes burning at one time—lighted with a single match. You can poke a hole in the water, down through the mud, and the gas will rise in bubbles through the water, and will light on top of the water when a lighted match is applied. I have seen the gas burn through the water from six inches high to six feet high in some places.

This is to certify, That I am the first one to discover oil running out of a wet-weather spring, I skimmed it up with a spoon and put it in a bottle—I could smell the oil fifteen or twenty feet before I would get to the spring, and it ran out for several days until the spring went dry. This is on the Cline farm. I have seen the gas burn when we would push a stick in the mud or water and then put a match to it.

This is to certify, That I have seen coal oil run out of a wet-weather spring on the Cline farm in April, 1920, and about thirty years ago I saw it run out of the ground in shale rock in Cane Creek. I have seen gallons of it run in this same place. You can break the shale rock and put it in water, and you can get oil skim out of it. The sand here is saturated with coal oil. You can push a stick down in the mud or water and put a match to it and it will ignite and burn, and flash up from six inches to three feet high. We have a high-grade oil field, and it is not a black oil. All these facts are true.

Our proposition is this: We sell you acreage stuff, and you can get it in $75, $150 and $300 lots as long as it lasts, and we give you an interest in all wells drilled on this block of one thousand and sixty acres, which is considered the key of the entire field, and if it is a success you will make a fortune on a small investment. The Hog Creek field paid $10,000 on a $100 investment. We give you the facts, but we are not begging you to buy, but want to give our friends a chance at home.

We guarantee all a fair and square deal, and we think the investor will be well satisfied with the investment.
